Cypress Recreation Park Now A County Project

DECISION FAVORS FORMING A CYPRESS PARK DISTRICT

Voters said "yes" at the polls Tuesday to the proposal of the board of supervisors in Orange county to form a park, recreation, and parkway district. Final count showed 146 cast votes in favor of the move, with 55 voting against it.

Developement of the park area to provide recreational facilities will be speeded up with the lifting of the financial burden locally. Funds, which have been gained principally from a White Gold Day celebration each year during the past three years, have had to be held aside in the past to assure annual payments on the property. Money earned through this worth-while community effort can now be used to purchase equipment.

Uses Loud Speaker

A great deal of credit is due Forrest "Frosty" Lowrey who gave freely of his time on Tuesday to remind citizens in this area that the polls were open at the schoolhouse. He was instrumental in procuring a loudspeaking device for his car, and traveled throughout the district in the interest of getting out the vote.

Park Boundaries

Roughly, the confines of the newly formed district is bounded on the north by Houston avenue, on the east by Hansen st., on the west by the Orange county line, and on the south by the boundary line of Rancho Los Alamitos.

President of the park board, Jake Van Dyke, is hopeful that a financial statement will be prepared soon which will be published.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Events

Meeting Monday evening, members of the auxiliary to Cypress VFW post No. 9847 prepared a calendar of coming events and made plans for their participation.

On Wednesday evening, October 26, Mrs. Ruth Mitchell invited the group to her home, 8862 Cypress avenue, to sew hospital pads and bassinet liners. On October 30 hospital day will be observed at Birmingham hospital. Hospitalized veterans will be entertained at a show and refreshments served.

Important dates in November include a national president's dinner on the eighth in Garden Grove at the Imperial cafe, and an inspection by the second district president. On November 20, in the Arlington VFW clubhouse, a second district meeting is scheduled. The local group plans a benefit card party at its hall the following evening.

Members volunteered to help with the local community chest drive, and Julia Bouse and Maxine Williams were appointed to investigate a report that a family of a veteran was in need of assistance.

Ruth Mitchell presided at the meeting in the absence of Jean Kreissler, who was unable to be present because of illness.

Gala Dance Masquerade October 29

Spooks and goblins are not the only Hallowe'en characters who will cavort on Saturday night, October 29, in the spirit of the coming special occasion.

VFW members, the auxiliary, and their friends will enjoy a masquerade dance in the hangar at the Cypress airpark. Door prizes will be given away, refreshments will be served, and fun and entertainment is promised for all who attend.

The local post has secured a good musical organization to furnish the music for dancing.

Proceeds will be added to the organization's building fund.

BEAT SNOW, COLD INTO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mackay returned home Monday evening from a visit in Salt Lake City.

The Mackay's left Cypress after the White Gold Day celebration on Saturday evening, October eighth, and drove directly through to their former home town. Snow flurries and bad weather retarded their travel to some degree on the trip east.

On the return drive, Cajon pass was their last glimpse of bad weather until premature winter settled down on Cypress and Southern California.

The Mackays enjoyed the vacation travel in their new Studebaker.

Merchants No. 2 Get Better Hold On First Place; Others Slip Lower

By taking four points to none from Buena Park's U-Tel-Em market Tuesday night, the Cypress Merchant's No. 2 bowling team moved another one-half game ahead of their nearest contender, Lalicker's Dry Goods.

The Merchant No. 1 team, which was in third place, lost all four points Tuesday to the Lion's club of Buena Park. Foster Noe sparked the team, hitting a 211 in one game, but the 109 pin handicap the locals had to spot the Lion's aggregation, was too much to overcome.

Triangle drive-in, the women's Cypress representative in the bowling, kept in the running in their league by taking one game from Hunt's Foods and losing only two.

Last week's standings, the latest available from the Buena Park Bowl, are as follows for the Cypress teams:

Tuesday Handicap

Cypress Merch. No. 2	16	4
Lalicker's Dry Goods	14	6
Cypress Merch. No. 1	11	9

Dump It Here!

A number of people have inquired in the past few days of the locations of the nearest county dumps open to the public. It is suggested that this information be clipped out and filed away for later reference.

The closest county dump to Cypress is on Hansen street south of Katella road near Stanton.

Local Baptists Will Sponsor Special Sunday

The First Southern church of Cypress, two blocks south of Lincoln avenue on Watson street, is to have an old-fashioned "Fifth Sunday Meetin'" on Sunday, October 30.

"Dinner all day and meetin' on the ground", with everybody invited to come and share the hospitality and join in the church services. W. V. Buckner, pastor, believes old friends from "way back yon'er" where they used to live before coming to California may meet on that day.

Rev. George King, missionary to this association will preach in the morning. Dr. C. O. Gillis, missionary to Argentina, will report in the afternoon on foreign missions. Rev. and Mrs. Milton Cunningham, missionaries from the home mission board will talk in the afternoon, and Dr. E. J. Morgan, pastor of the First Southern Baptist church of El Monte will preach.

In the evening, Rev. Arthur King, former pastor of the local church, will bring the message.

All members and friends of the church are urged to come early in the morning and bring a well-filled basket of food and plan to spend the day, from 9:45 a.m. until it is all over.

Mr. Buckner says the choir of the El Monte church will come and present some of the best old-time singing heard in a long time. Dr. and Mrs. Gillis are wonderful musicians and they will furnish extra music with their horn and violin and will sing some songs in Spanish. As pastor of the church, he expounds this bit of warnin', "We'll be lookin' for you."

Community Chest Drive Locally Now Underway

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. J. Purdy, volunteer workers began this week to collect funds in Cypress for the annual community chest drive.

A division of the Anaheim community chest, Cypress has no set goal to reach. Since certain organizations and individuals here are benefited, Mrs. Purdy and her workers are hopeful that this area will make a good showing.

Helping in the door to door canvass this year are Mmes. Thomas F. Brady, Ellen Jennings, Joseph Odermatt, Beth Reisig, Leo Smith, Della Priddy, C. Troutman, Virginia Daniels, Betty Knauss, Lucille Christopher, and Miss Rita Bettencourt.

Once a year one appeal is made for financial help for the five red feather agencies served through community chest — Girl and Boy Scouts, Visiting Nurses, Catholic Welfare, and the Salvation Army.

Contributions may be sent in care of Mrs. Purdy, 5561 Saint Ann avenue, or a call to Anaheim 60296 will bring a representative of Community Chest to the door.

MRS. J. BAILEY'S PARENTS VISITING

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey, 8882 Cypress avenue, had as their guests this week her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Burgess.

The latter couple is enjoying a year's leave of absence on the mainland, having arrived from Honolulu six months ago. Following an unfortunate accident on the ship during the crossing, the doctor was hospitalized in San Francisco with a broken leg. Mrs. Burgess cared for her daughter here after her little granddaughter arrived.

After a few sight-seeing trips to Las Vegas and other points of interest, the Burgess' expect to winter in Florida.

ANAHEIM HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS PLAY THURSDAY, NOV. 3

Rehearsals for the coming high school senior class play "Soup to Nuts" are taking a hilarious tone these days as student actors romp through the scenes of the more than funny three act comedy.

The play will have an evening showing November 3 with a matinee the preceding day.

COMMUNITY DINNER MONDAY NIGHT HONORS BALL TEAM

Whoops! Almost!

Remember the box in the upper right - hand corner of the Enterprise which was carried all last year with figures showing the amount of precipitation each week? Well, it almost went back up there this issue.

"Uncle Dick" (Richard G.) Wallace, 5662 Lincoln avenue, guards the secrets of the rainfall by carefully tending the small "gadget" which the business association purchased over a year ago. The results are the measurements recorded officially for this area.

Wallace said "a trace" this week.

"SMITTY" RETURNS — TEXAS MINUS SNAKE

The "wandering" Jesse E. Smith's returned to their home at 5701 Vonnie Lane last Saturday after a month's vacation and sight-seeing tour of the west and southwest. Following his retirement from the U. S. navy and the purchase of a new car, the Smith's "took off," but find home the best place after all.

While visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, in Kaufman, Texas, "Smitty" went rabbit hunting. What he bagged was a 54-inch rattlesnake, and a count of the buttons on its rattler revealed a total of eleven.

The couple enjoyed a leisurely journey, staying as long as they pleased in whatever spot suited their fancy best. They visited in Mexico, attended the Texas state fair at Dallas, and enjoyed a family reunion with five of the six boys in the family being present.

The mileage for the trip showed a total of 4949 miles, with an average of 19.4 miles to the gallon of gasoline used.

LONG BEACH MAN BUYS JOHNSON ESTATE

Final disposition of the Grace Johnson estate has been made in Los Alamitos.

Harry Parr, a retired mail carrier from Long Beach, has purchased the Johnson property at 321 Howard street.

Everyone is invited!

Spark-plugged by the local Chamber of commerce, Monday evening's regular meeting night will be dedicated to recognizing the Cypress Merchants' softball team with a pot-luck community dinner at the school house at seven o'clock.

Although the team "brought home the bacon" in the form of a trophy to be presented in honor of their win in the National softball league — piece de resistance at Monday night's contributed dinner will be meat loaf. This will be augmented by potato salad, green beans or peas and pie.

In charge of the dinner arrangements are the wives of the team's members. Just so a fairly good idea can be maintained on the balance of food being prepared, those planning to attend the dinner can call Mrs. Richard Hathcock, at Anaheim 28761, and report to her what donation is planned.

For those who wish to attend the dinner, but do not have adequate cooking facilities at their disposal, a welcome contribution of pickles or olives is suggested.

The committee will arrange for coffee, sugar and cream. There will also be dishes available so that it will not be necessary to bring dishes or silver from home.

All Are Welcome

The main purpose of the dinner is to honor the champion softball team who helped put Cypress on the map this summer. A special program is being planned, and a good time is assured.

NEW STORE LOOTED IN HAWAIIAN GARDENS

After chopping a hole in the side of a frame and stucco recently completed store building at 21500 S. Norwalk blvd., burglars made off with merchandise and cash to a total value of $133 early Monday according to a report filed with Norwalk sheriff's deputies. Included in the loot were $105 in currency and 20 cartons of cigarettes. Leon W. Richards, 12127 Magnolia street, owner of the establishment, said he believed the intruders were looking for narcotics.

The hole in the building was about two feet square.

Two Birthdays Cause For Double Celebration Friday

The birthday anniversaries of Vevah Gail Bodkins and Nolan Blackman were celebrated last Friday night at a party planned by their classmates in the eighth grade at the Cypress school.

Scene of the festivities was the rumpus room at the Jake Van Dyke residence at 5252 Orange avenue.

Games were enjoyed and each celebrant was the recipient of a birthday gift from the class members. Mrs. Van Dan Dyke baked the birthday cakes and the eighth grade furnished the ice cream and soft drinks for the refreshments.

Other than the honorees, present were Mary Lou Hoxsie, Walt Bueck, Wayde Martin, Cynthia Colon, Kenneth Van Dyke, Roberta Rob, Elaine Miranda, Patsy Reeves, Narcie Ferreira, Jimmy McLaughlin, Chuck Bell, Buddy Chambers, Paul Caperon, Esther Mata and Robert Van Dyke.

INDUSTRIES HUM LIKE BEES IN L.A. HIVE OF PROGRESS

IN ITS WESTWARD trek the world's industry has found promise and fullfillment in Los Angeles.

Yet, for all its explosive growth, the city remains a frontier of opportunity.

It welcomes the new. It questions old patterns. It gambles on the untried. Expansion is in its blood.

A city less fresh and youthful would burst its seams. Instead, this colossus of the Pacific slope is rich with the clamor of current growth — and the construction of new big-city facilities to match future growth.

Half a billion dollars has been invested here in new factories and plant expansions since the war's end. In oil . . . metals . . . food . . . processing . . . furniture—through a long list of major industries—the record and the forecast for this community's diversified economy can be focused on one word: progress. Jet-speeded, rocketing progress. Forward-looking progress.

Industry's staunch faith in L.A. has been proven many times.

Late in July this year, at an hour when many businessmen professed fear and uncertainty, Lever Brothers Co. announced acquisition of a 30-acre site in L.A.'s Central Manufacturing District for a $25,000,000 plant as part of a $55,000,000 expansion program.

Administration offices of the Carnation Co., formerly situated in New York, Milwaukee, Seattle and locally, have been consolidated in Los Angeles.

Prudential Insurance Co. has established western headquarters in a new $8,500,000 building here, locally supervising 2½ billions in policies and $20,000,000 per month in Prudential investments in the west.

General Petroleum Corp. opened an $11,000,000 headquarters here in April.

What the western migration of industry has done to hang up records for L.A. can be seen in the following table of the community's standing:

First in the world—Aircraft production.
First in the world—Movie production.
First in America—Oil tools and well equipment.
First in America—Sportswear.
Second in America—Automobile manufacture.
Second in America—Rubber products.
Third in America—Petroleum refining.
Third in America—Food processing.
Third in America—Furniture production.
Third in America—Total number of factories.

As Los Angeles prepares to enter the decade of the '50's, it looks ahead to an unbroken continuity of further spectacular growth.

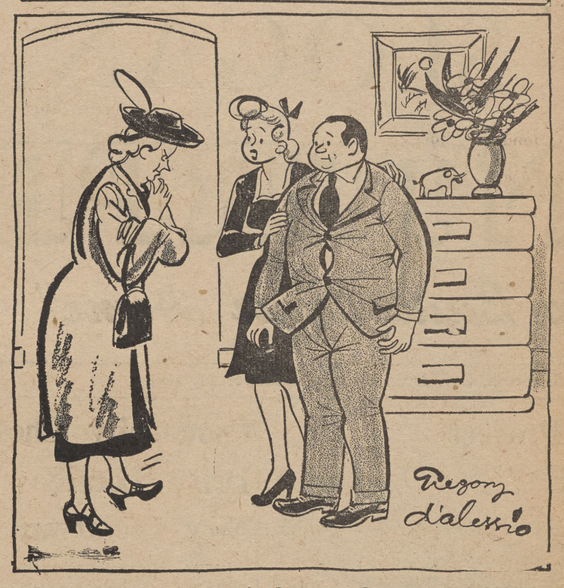
THESE WOMEN! By d'Alessio



"This suit fitted him perfectly on our honeymoon! NOW will you admit I'm not starving your darling son?"

I RISE TO REMARK
by John Phillips

This is written in Cornwall. We stayed overnight at a "Guest House." in Redruth (for all the world like a "Tourist Home" in Virginia or Maryland) and today we drove to Lands End, and St. Ives, and Penzance, and are staying the night in Truro, in as typical an old English Inn as I've ever seen.

It is interesting and beautiful country, even if we didn't see the man with seven wives at St. Ives nor the pirates at Penzance. There was a reason for my coming down here. 107 years ago, the John Phillips, after whom your congressman is named, set out from Redruth, with his young wife for a newer world called America. No money but plenty of courage. When he died, in 1887, he could be called a "leading citizen" of the Pennsylvania city to which he had brought that Cornish mining instinct, and he left a comfortable competence to be divided among seven children.

Inexperience

I wonder what that sturdy gentleman, with his chin whiskers. and his gold watch chain, in the photographs, would have thought of a world in which inexperienced and immature government employees told him how to run his business; where he was urged to depend upon government, instead of his own efforts, and in which taxes took a third of the nation's income, produced by the work of its citizens. Perhaps it is just as well the austere old gentleman went to join the John Phillips' ahead of him, before this grew up in a nation which once was proud of its strength and independence.

London is recovering. The bombed areas are being cleaned up and there is much rebuilding. Food conditions are better than we expected. I do not mean in the hotels, but in the homes.

Welfare State

The welfare state is here. Why shouldn't it be? A working man pays 4 shillings a week into the government fund and for that he may draw out 21 shillings if he is out of work, plus 16 shillings for his wife, and 8 shillings for a child. In addition he gets all medical and dental services including dentures and medicines, eye examinations and glasses (including an extra pair) and a toupee or wig, with a spare if he wants it. The hospitals are jammed; emergency treatments and operations are seriously difficult, and human nature being the same in England as elsewhere, the people are going to the doctor for anything from a pimple to an amputation. The Labor Party, in its pre-estimate, put down 250,000 pounds as the optical costs in the city of Birmingham; they are already over 3,000,000.

The net result is that the laboring man, who pays in 4 shillings and hits the jackpot, thinks the scheme is wonderful; the British taxpayers realize the end is bankruptcy, just as soon as American taxpayers quit picking up the check.

Travelogue
by James C. Duncan

We arrived in Genoa, Italy at 6 p.m. Since everyone had his work completed, most went ashore as we docked. As we walked along the streets leading out of the harbor district, we noticed the damage of the buildings, streets, and the railroad yards wrought by the bombs dropped during the war.

As we got farther uptown, the damage disappeared and upon reaching the heart of the city, we couldn't see a trace of the war. The city wasn't harmed, which is a good thing. It is one of the most beautiful cities I have ever visited.

Tall buildings line the streets with attractive shops showing their wares in huge windows. The people seemed happy and contented. Small and beautiful squares with trees, flowers, benches and statues offered weary persons a place to sit down and relax in the shade.

The Italian people love art, fine foods and good music. This could be seen by the countless statues placed conspiciously about the city. The opera house, the most famous in Europe, stands in the center of the city. It is a beautiful building. On signs all over the city, the opening of the opera house was advertised and all the seats were sold out well in advance.

For the evening entertainment, Genoa has some of the swankiest night clubs I have ever seen. Perhaps the most exclusive is the Ragno d'Oro (The Golden Spider). Beautiful plush seats line the walls with individual tables. Against one wall is a small stage where an orchestra plays. A waiter appeared as we entered, directed us to our tables and brought us a menu.

Since all of us had eaten on ship and didn't want to eat anymore, we decided to get something to drink. Since none of us had ever drunk champaign, we ordered champaign. It was quite reasonable here. The orchestra leader came over to our table and asked us if we would like to make a request.

We all requested our favorite songs, then tipped him substantially. We didn't have to worry about music for the rest of the evening.

Our champaign was brought to our table and the waiter pulled the cork out with the familiar identifying "pop". I liked the taste of it, but several of the fellows who came with Lenny and I didn't care for it.

Since we were Americans, that meant to the natives that we had American cigarettes. Italy was having a difficult time with the black market on cigarettes and we certainly didn't help any. We had no sooner docked when the natives swarmed aboard eager to buy any and all cigarettes that we had. Lenny and I pooled our cigarettes and sold them for 2,000 lira a carton, which was being paid for them just after the war. Selling our cigarettes provided us with enough money to enjoy our stay in Italy.

Here in Genoa, as in Alexandria, a permit is required before a camera could be taken ashore. Once again I put in for one, but it failed to come through before we sailed.

During our stay in Genoa, we picked up quite a bit of Italian. Although a great number of people speak English, one has to learn some Italian to get about. One expression which we had to learn and use the most often was, "Quanto costa questo?" Translated into English, it means, "How much is this?"

On the fourth morning in Genoa, we sailed at four o'clock for Leghorn, Italy.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Open Forum column of the News is open to any citizen who has anything to say. The only restrictions against contributions will be those of good taste and space limitation. The letters to be published must be signed and ideas and opinions expressed are those of the writer and are not necessarily shared by this newspaper.

IT IS MORE THAN COINCIDENCE!

Exactly one week from the day that my letter to the citizens of Cypress appeared in this paper, the following article appeared in "The California Veteran", VFW Department of California publication:

AMERICAN FLAG IS NOT ALWAYS PAID PROPER RESPECT
by Ray Brulez,
VFW Dept. of California Americanism Chairman

It is with deep concern that I have noticed recently the apathy of citizens of several communities in paying respect to the American Flag when it is passing in parade, and I regret to say that many of the people who fail to pay the proper respect are former members of the armed forces.

The flag represents the American way of life and all the freedoms we enjoy. Following are a few simple rules pertaining to the salute to the flag passing in parade:

Every person, man, woman, or child, should face the colors and stand at attention. A man who is not in uniform and is wearing a hat should remove it and hold it over his heart. Women and children should place the hand over the heart. Men and women in uniform should salute.

It is my hope that an improvement in this respect will be noted in future parades.

It is certainly not my intention to "militarize" the public by forcing undue discipline upon them, but I do feel, deeply, the need of a "moral" discipline on the part of each and every one of the citizens of the community, including the veterans.

Our flag represents more than a way of life which we have all learned to take for granted. It represents the life-blood of veterans of many wars, fought to keep that way of life intact for us, for our children, and for our children's children. Let's not forsake this obligation to these heroes by failing to show our flag its due respect.

Happy Kreissler,
Commander,
Cypress VFW Post

KEEP SPEED LOW

Don't race for the gasoline filling station when the fuel gauge registers empty, warns the National Automobile Club. Speeding up is the quickest way to get the least out of the fuel remaining in the tank. The engine travels farthest on the least gasoline at a speed of around 25 miles per hour.

NEW SUBSTATION NEAR HERE — Southern California Edison Company's new electrical substation, shown above, located on La Palma Avenue, southeast of Buena Park, is expected to be completed and in operation next week, according to C. E. Demarest, Edison Company district manager. In addition to reinforcing present electrical service the La Palma substation will serve as a new source of electricity for this rapidly growing area, Mr. Demarest said. Electricity will be brought into the substation at 66,000 volts over two lines, and reduced to 11,000 volts for distribution throughout the district. Other projects in the Edison Company's $245,000,000 plant expansion program for the years 1946 through 1949 include a seventh major dam and a sixth powerhouse at the Edison Big Creek hydro-electric development in the High Sierra, the new Redondo Beach steam-electric generating station, and additional substations, lines and office buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Parker and children, 5602 Danny ave., will spend Monday and Tuesday visiting her father, W. J. Murray, in Ojai.

County Artists Exhibit Works In Fullerton

Paintings, ceramics and sculpture from artist members of twelve Orange county communities are represented in the first annual member show of the Orange County Art association. The success of the association's first show is evident in the exhibition being held in the lecture room of the Fullerton Public library.

The monthly meeting, Thursday, October 13, at 8 p.m., at the library featured a reception honoring the exhibiting artists. Speaker for the evening was the noted Southland ceramist, Dr. Glenn Lukens, professor of ceramics at the University of Southern California. His subject was "The Pottery of Haiti".

The exhibition is open to the public during October at the library week - days daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Also featured is the sale of exhibited work by local artists at attractively low prices.

POET'S CORNER

Hallowe'en Night

Pumpkins and goblins are nothing to me
But witches and ghosts are something to see.
Cats and bats are just like rats
When they run and climb to make up lost time.
Being a spook is so much fun
That is when you are on the run.
And now though we are kind of shy
It's really time to say good-bye.

Student Council Officers Seated

At our assembly last Friday, October 14, newly elected officers of the student body were introduced. Nolan Blackman, student council chairman, made the introductions. The following were elected: president, Narcie Ferreira of eighth; vice-president, Leonard Slabaugh of seventh; secretary-treasurer, Nolan Blackman of eighth; Sergeant-at-arms, Henry Mason of seventh; safety captain, Susan Zwart of seventh.

Secret ballots were passed around to the rooms so no one would know who won the offices until the assembly. The ballots were counted in the office.

We hope that the new officers will have a successful year.

GIRL SCOUTS MAKE PLAQUES

The Girl Scouts of Cypress school in the sixth grade, Troop 14, are making plaques on plywood. First they made the background by splatter painting. The girls are then going to put the Girl Scout laws in lettered macaroni. The scouts should know the laws by the time they are finished.

Troop 14 meets in the school library every Tuesday. They are going to have a Hallowe'en party October 28. The girls like scouting very much and hope to continue.

Ivey Giles, 6-A

The eighth grade girls in Mr. Winsor's room have started a scout troop at the last meeting. Ten girls reported for activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Demiris of Gay street had as their guests for several days the latter part of this past week, the latter's sister, Mrs. Josephine Swaborah and grandson, Tommy Savicas of Los Angeles.

Miss Camille Sandvig will be the guest of the Guy Irvins on Gay street for a month preceding her marriage to William D. He is a member of the crew of the submarine Char, which is in dry-dock being overhauled.

Room mothers at the Centralia school met Monday afternoon to make plans for the annual Hallowe'en party. In the upper grades, the party will take place the last period of the afternoon. The refreshments will be the same in all of the rooms.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR NEW MRS. WRIGHT AT ALLIN HOME

A delightful post-nuptial shower was given for Mrs. James Wright, formerly Miss Mona Chapman, on Friday evening, October 14, by Mrs. Jesse James (nee Claudine Allin) and Mrs. Robert Harris (June Welch) in Buena Park.

The party was held at the C. R. Allin home, 6631 Highland avenue, which was decorated with arrangements of gorgeous dahlias.

A number of clever games were enjoyed. Mrs. Don Osberg won first prize in two of them, and Mrs. R. L. Calais in another.

After the gifts, both beautiful and practical, had been unwrapped and admired by the recipient and the guests, the hostesses served fruit salad with hot rolls and coffee.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TEXT "PROBATION AFTER DEATH"

"He that shall endure until the end, the same shall be saved." This statement by Jesus from Matthew's Gospel will be the Golden Text for the Sunday Lesson - Sermon on "Probation After Death" in all branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Matthew's account of the resurection relates that "as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from Heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.....And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.....And as they went to tell his disciples, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And, they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him."

On this subject, Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascention, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave. Jesus was 'the way;' that is, he marked the way for all men."

TURKEY DINNER FEATURE OF BIRTHDAY

The birthday anniversary of John Preston was marked by a turkey dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Travis at the home of Lilly Carpenter.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Travis and children, Phyllis, Jimmy and Doreen, the Jim Travis' and Mrs. Carpenter.

MAGAZINE TELLS AMAZING STORY OF STATE'S GROWTH

The amazing story of California's recent growth and how it has absorbed, in less than ten years, as many people as live in the whole states of Virginia or Iowa, is told in the October issue of Harper's Magazine.

The magazine article, entitled Look What's Happened to California, place the state under a microscope and comes to the conclusion that what the nation had come to think of as a westward movement is actually a movement to California. The California story is the lead article in the magazine.

Californians were vaguely aware of a phenomenal increase in population, the article states, but the full shock of recognition did not come until August, 1949, when the Bureau of the Census released a report on population shifts for the period from April 1, 1940 to July 1, 1947. California, it was revealed, had gained three million new residents in seven years, bringing the state to a population total of ten million—more people than there are in all of New England. It had passed Illinois and Ohio in population, and had edged close to Pennsylvania, the second most populous state in the union.

No other state has every shown a volume of increase through migration even remotely approaching this, the article continues, nor has the movement stopped. California is still a very young state whose area is virtually limitless in comparison with its present population. According to the article, the experts now forecast that California will show an additional gain of 2,650,000 in the 1950's that it has not yet reached the midpoint of its growth.

Thirty Human Rights... U.N.'s new weapon against war!

An Unofficial Version By American Association for the United Nations

Because you live in the U.S.A., you have certain rights protected by law. You can worship as you please, write and speak freely. No one can break into your home or drag you off to jail in secret. These are only a few of your American rights.

Few people in the world have such rights. In many countries, rulers can gag and terrorize the people, silencing all opposition to aggression and war. When this happens, peace is threatened.

For that reason, the United Nations has adopted a Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Like our own Declaration of Independence, it is not a code of law, but a statement of principles. It contains thirty rights that may reshape the world.

Get to know these thirty rights. We can't be sure of peace until they are guaranteed for all men.

Here, in brief, is a simplified, unofficial version of what the Declaration of Human Rights says to every person on earth:

1. Since all people are brothers and sisters in the human family, you should treat everyone with respect.
2. Your rights have nothing to do with your bank account, family ancestry, religion, sex, color or political beliefs.

3. You have the right to be alive and to stay that way.
4. No one can make you a slave.
5. You cannot be tortured or punished in any degrading way.
6. Your rights belong to you wherever you go.
7. You are as important as anyone else in the eyes of the law.
8. If anyone takes away any of your basic rights, you can ask court action to get them back.
9. You can't be arrested or exiled unless you've done something wrong.
10. If charged with a crime, you will get a fair, public trial in an impartial court.
11. You must be considered innocent until proven guilty. You can't be punished for any act that was not considered a crime when you did it.
12. No one, without lawful reason, can read your mail, enter your home without your permission, or butt into your personal and family affairs.
13. You can come and go freely in your own country, leave and return as you please.
14. If you are persecuted in your own country, you can seek refuge in another.
15. You have the right to a nationality. No one can take it away or prevent you from changing it if you want to.
16. Once you're of age, you can marry whomever you choose and raise a family. You can't be forced to marry against your will.
17. You may own property, either by yourself or with others. It can't be taken away from you illegally.
18. You have freedom of religion and the right to express your religious convictions.
19. You may say, write and read whatever you choose.
20. You may form organizations and attend any public gathering. But you can't be forced to go to meetings or join any association.
21. You have the right to take part in your government by voting in free elections. And you're entitled to all the services which your government provides.

22. You have the right to social security benefits and, according to the available facilities, to live in dignity.
23. You may go after any job you can handle, and you are entitled to a living wage. You may join a trade union.

24. You have the right to rest and leisure, reasonable working hours and paid holidays.
25. You are entitled to decent food, clothing, housing, medical care, and pensions for sickness, disability and old age. Mothers and children deserve special care.
26. You have the right to a free elementary education, and to as much higher schooling as your abilities merit.
27. You may share in the enjoyment of art and science, receiving any profit that results from your own talent.
28. You deserve to live in a peaceful world where all these rights can be realized.
29. You must shoulder your own responsibilities to society, making sure you don't step on the rights of others.
30. Neither you nor any other person, nor any nation, has the right to destroy any rights listed in this Declaration.

Above wording is unofficial and presents an abbreviated version of the official Declaration of Human Rights

HOPEFUL HERBERT

BY KAULEE

Hopeful Herbert's very happy and he's shouting far and near,
So that all his friends and neighbors will be mighty sure to hear
Of the Genocide Convention
the United Nations passed,
So that those who plot mass murder can be brought to trial at last.

Herbert knows despotic rulers never care whose blood is spilled;
Through the ages, groups of many creeds and races have been killed.
Since the reign of ancient Nero
when the Christian martyrs died,
There has been no form of justice that could punish genocide.

That's why Herbie is so grateful to be living at a time
When all nations have united to make genocide a crime.
For he knows that would-be tyrants will think twice before they try Killing men to gain more power with a world law standing by.

Helping the United Nations,
Herb knows is
The thing to do,
For if you
Work for the U.N.,
The U.N.
Will work for you!

* Genocide—the mass destruction of people because of their race, religion or political beliefs
